FAH Corris Boyd Leadership Award
Nomination Deadline January 17, 2020 (Nomination Form Attached)

DESCRIPTION
The Federation of American Hospitals established this award to honor the late Corris Boyd, whose vision of building a better way to live and work through leadership and diversity was embodied in the many accomplishments for which he is known. The Corris Boyd Leadership Award honors an individual or company that has made an outstanding contribution in fostering leadership, partnering and mentoring in the healthcare industry.

ABOUT CORRIS BOYD:
Before his untimely death from leukemia in December 2005, Corris Boyd worked with HCA and Triad Hospitals, Inc. Corris also served on the Federation of American Hospitals’ Exposition Advisory Committee for many years and was a former chairman of the committee. Corris Boyd committed his life to diversity and excellence in healthcare. He believed that leadership development is crucial to success and was devoted to the success of minority, women and small veteran (veteran, disabled veteran, service-disabled veteran) business enterprises (MWVBEs).

PURPOSE / GOAL:
The Corris Boyd Leadership Award will accomplish the following:
- Honor an individual and/or organization whose service and vision often go unnoticed, for their leadership in promoting awareness, changing behaviors, and empowering others to join the ongoing effort to address diversity in healthcare.
- Recognize, strengthen and support leaders, and to highlight the importance of leadership in improving peoples’ lives.
- Confirm that resourceful leaders are bringing about positive change in the healthcare industry.
- Recognize the importance of an individual’s initiative and the inspirational impact the recipients’ stories and experience can have to motivate others to action.
- Increase understanding, change perceptions, and/or impact policy and behavior.
- Identify best practices and stimulate the replication of best practice models.

CRITERIA:
The nominated individual or company should meet the following criteria:
- A professional that leads by example.
- Has driven their organization to excellence and has had an impact on other organizations.
- Demonstrates fairness in business transactions and dealing with people.
- Proven success in mentoring others.
- Encourages opportunities in the healthcare profession.
- Works to attract and retain employees from diverse backgrounds.
- Proven success in promoting innovative technology that improves care and reduces costs.
- Measurable results in commitment to leadership.

ELIGIBILITY:
Consideration will be given to candidates who have successfully demonstrated leadership in education, policy development, and creating or leading organizational change. FAH membership is not a requirement for nomination.

NOMINATION PROCEDURE:
Nominations must be submitted on or before January 17, 2020. For additional nomination forms please contact Kerry Price, Senior Vice President, Operations, Federation of American Hospitals at 202-624-1510 or kprice@fah.org.

SELECTION PROCESS:
The FAH Exposition Advisory Committee has established the criteria for this award and a selection committee will vote by secret ballot to determine the award recipient.
